

MedWise helps make sense of medical billing and paperwork

BY Adria Gross, President of MedWise Billing, Inc

Anyone who's had even the simplest medical procedure done has witnessed first hand one of the most annoying, time-consuming and, yes, inefficient, aspects of healthcare in America today: the endless paperwork. You get bills for things you didn't even realize you had done, from people you don't think you ever even met. You get reams of paper from your health insurer...and sometime one statement contradicts the statement on the statement you received only a few days (or weeks) ago.

Keeping on top of the mountain of billing and paperwork can be mind-boggling and confusing for anyone, whatever their age.

Do you need assistance with your perplexing medical bills or rejected insurance claims? Are you having a difficult time keeping up with minor medical bills and health insurance claims?

It can be an exercise in frustration. It always seems to take several phone calls and letters to repair the smallest crisis.

These problems are magnified when a serious illness or injury occurs. The traditional folder method of handling medical expenses soon breaks down. Most clients are retirees who are recovering from major illnesses or injuries and they simply don't want to deal with billing hassles.

MedWise Billing, Inc. are medical claims experts that can take care of all your medical bills; from organizing your claims and payments to handling appeals when claims are denied or
